GERMANY'S PEACE PROPOSALS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED

MAYOR M. GREER--COUNCILLORS SMITH, SCOFFIELD, SIMMERMAN McQUEEN CHOSEN FOR 1917-18

Monday last the people expressed themselves at the polls. The civic election is over. The new mayor and councillors are ready to take over the reins of office as soon as they are dropped by the old council. In the men chosen the opinion and best thought of the people have been expressed, that is, of course provided the people acted individually and without fear of any clique or party.

Out of the six candidates for seats in the council only four could be elected and only four were elected—George Smith, Arthur Scoffield, Bud Simmerman and Dr. J. W. McQueen.

Apart from the polls given George Smith the voting was very close between the other three, there being only a matter of a few votes difference.

The polls were open at ten o'clock but up till noon there were only sixteen ratepayers who exercised the franchise. However before the hour for closing, 100 votes were cast. In the contest Dr. J. W. McQueen secured 49 votes, Bud Simmerman 73, Arthur Scoffield 77, and George Smith 97.

With Matthew Greer, the newly elected Mayor by acclamation, at the head of affairs and these men his valuable assistants the people of Wainwright may feel safe in its civic administration. If they are able to

Mr. Larue Smith of Delburne Alta visited for the last week with his brothers Herb and George Smith of this town.

COUNCIL WILL OPERATE RINK THIS WINTER

At the last meeting of the Council the report, to the effect that no one tendered for the leasing of the town rink this winter, was received. The rink will therefore be operated again this year by the town. The Council passed an order to have it wired for electricity. In all probability the rink will not be flooded nor skating start until after that is done. But the rate at which the Light Co. is doing wiring we should not be kept long out of the rink and its enjoyment.

PATRIOTIC BOX SOCIAL AT GILT EDGE

The patriotic Box Social at Gilt Edge was one of the most enthusiastic and successful held in the constituency. Everyone in the neighborhood worked hard and the officers of the Patriotic Fund are to be congratulated on their success. A splendid program of singing and recitations was presented aided by war pictures kindly donated by the Patriotic Society. The sale of baskets was the feature of the evening. Mr. Church as auctioneer had to sacrifice some of the baskets as low as $21 owing to time limit otherwise the bidding would have been going on yet. The society raised $100 on baskets alone and $80 admission at the door. A large number from Wainwright thoroughly enjoyed the evening and extend congratulations to Church, Hope Valley and Gilt Edge on the success of the entertainment.

DYING MAN FOUND NORTH OF CHAUVIN CORONER'S INQUEST

Christian Krogh, a Norwegian homesteader fourteen miles north of Chauvin, was last week found in a dying condition on the road beside his buggy. Coroner Dr. J. A. Little was immediately called and it was found that an inquest was necessary. The post mortem examination of the body revealed the fact that death was not due to natural causes. There were strong suspicions of poisoning through wood alcohol. The person who sold or gave it to him has been summoned for trial. The coroner sent the stomach of the dead man to the Dominion analyst in Edmonton for examination and further developments of the case will await his certificate.

A meeting of the United Farmers Association will be held in the Council Chamber at 3 p.m. on Saturday.

carry out present intentions we can hope, with a very great degree of certainty, for good government and business-like administration.

During the day Mr. Greer the new Mayor was in evidence around town and at the polls anxiously awaiting returns as to who should be his colleagues in office. Mr. Greer feels grateful for the unanimous sentiment expressed in his election to the position of trust as Mayor of the town. He said he would try never to betray the confidence the people of Wainwright have placed in him. And that he would do all in his power to enforce the principles he has held all along. He said he would strive for greater economy and work for the best interests of the town, mentally, commercially and especially morally. Mr. Greer also said that he would always endeavor to judge impartially in every question affecting the welfare of the people and that he would keep personally in touch with every department of town life, giving equal rights to all and privileges to none.

CARD OF THANKS

Let me take this opportunity to thank those ratepayers who so willingly supported me on Monday by electing me to the office of councillor of the Town of Wainwright. You can rest assured that the Town will be served to the best of my ability and trust that you will not be disappointed.

George A. Smith.

Will the party who took the black fur robe from Smith's barn on Monday night return same to Sam Kitchen, and avoid further trouble.

Curling will be in operation soon. The sheets have been prepared and flooding is in process. All ye curlers get your caps and broom ready for a big start.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,—Through the columns of your paper I would like to express my thanks to the many friends who were so kind and solicitous of my welfare in my recent illness. The people of Wainwright were more than kind and I appreciate that very much.

I would like to say just a word, too, in praise of our local doctors. I am extremely well satisfied with the attention and treatment which I received at their hands.

I might also add this hint: It is discouraging to say the least of it to a man who is sick to have his visitors complain about local physicians and tell him he is not getting proper treatment and that he should go elsewhere. Perhaps they do this thoughtlessly or with the best intentions but it is disheartening to the patient. And my unqualified statement is that Wainwright town and district ought to be proud to have such physicians as we have.

Yours Sincerely,
Herbert Smith

News of the peace proposals of Germany was received at the Star office by special message Tuesday morning. The message was to the effect that Germany this morning through Chancellor Von Bethman Hollweg, received representatives from U.S.A., Spain and Switzerland and transmitted a note to be brought to the attention of the Allies, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria. The proposal is for peace. The same to be transmitted through the Vatican and Rome. The Chancellor was to bring the terms of the proposal before the German Reichstag yesterday afternoon. The proposal is purely on the initiative of Germany. Great Britain let it be perfectly understood has not been the one to take the first step in this matter and unlikely to receive any such proposal for peace unless it is entirely satisfactory to the allies, in view of all the facts of the war with Germany.

Arthur Henderson, minister of pensions and one of the members of the War Cabinet in Britain, warns the people against premature peace as follows:—The war has gone on too long for some people in this country. It is possible, in view of the military situation, that we may become weary. I want to warn everyone of the danger of premature peace. I am strongly for peace as anyone can be, but peace must place us without doubt beyond recurrence of the present catastrophe. By all means let our United States friends and any other neighbors do what they can do to form a league of nations which would bind them selves together to lay down principles of arbitration and I will go with them, but not now. To talk peace with all the most unscrupulous military forces against us would be a step toward having to fight the whole thing over again.

"Shall the liquor store system be abolished?" was the question asked of the Saskatchewan electors this week. By an overwhelming majority they shouted "yes" at the polls. Traffic in intoxicating drink in the province of Saskatchewan is entirely a thing of the past.

MEN'S CLUB SPEND PROFITABLE TIME AT THE VICARAGE

The "Mens Club" that has recently been formed met last Thursday night, in St. Thomas' vicarage. A highly interesting discussion took place on the "Problems that are likely to arise after the War," in which all present took a part. The Vicar gave lead to the discussion by treating on the economic side of the question, and the future of the Empire Trade Relations with Germany.

This verged off into various issues and all felt that a most profitable evening was spent. On the motion of Mr. Wilson of the K.N.W.M.P. it was decided to continue the discussion next Thursday night 14th.

The club is open to all men of various creeds and political views and it is hoped that Mr. Greer our mayor in prospect, will accept the position of President as the main object of the club is for the uplift and for the intellectual concourse of the residents of our town and district.

COUNCIL HOLDS BUSY SESSION ON THURSDAY LAST

A special meeting of the town Council was held in the council chamber last Thursday evening. When Mayor G. H. Beaudry in the chair, called the meeting to order promptly at the hour of eight o'clock, secretary Pawling, councillors Greer, Gerow, and Washburn were in their respective places. Other members of the council were unavoidably absent on account of ill-health.

The meeting was conducted in a thoroughly business-like fashion, no time being needlessly wasted or lost. Quite a large docket of business was transacted.

The report of the committee on Fire, Water, and light was heard, re payment of firemen and the fire chief for services rendered at fires since last February up to November 30, which on the motion of Washburn and Greer was ordered to be paid.

The total amount of the budget reported by the finance committee for the past month was $1000 and the various accounts making up this amount on motion of Gerow and Greer were ordered to be paid by the treasurer.

The Health and Parks committee, reported on the matter of clearing and brushing the cemetery site and councillors Washburn and Greer, moved that the tender of Clayton Stouffer for $100 for doing this work be accepted.—Carried

On the subject of unfinished business before the council, considerable discussion arose over the removal of the scales belonging to the Imperial Lumber Co. from the sidewalk at their office. The Mayor was of opinion that an order should be passed for their removal at once. A resolution was then made by Councillor Gerow and Councillor Greer that Secretary Pawling be instructed to notify said Company to remove their weigh scales, now on the sidewalk, at their yards, as in accordance with a motion of the town council passed a year ago, on December 7th 1915.

The matter of a by-law for the regulation of street traffic again came up. Secretary H. Y. Pawling reported having heard from the towns of Vermilion, Vegreville, Camrose and others to the effect, that they had no such by-laws as yet governing traffic in these places. Councillor Washburn was of the opinion that, that was no reason why we should not take action in the matter. Councillor Gerow thought it would be a good thing for the new mayor and councillors to deal with. The matter was thus left in abeyance.

The offer of the Bert L. Perry Electric Light Company to wire the skating rink and the fire hall for $306 was then discussed at some length. Mr. Gerow thought the work should be done. Mr. Greer thought the price very reasonable and that the council should take action immediately. It was accordingly moved by Greer and seconded by Gerow that the contract be signed and the work done under the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The resignation of Town Constable W. A. King was received and accepted. The secretary at the same time instructed to take the necessary steps to procure a general utility man for the town.

The Elite Theatre delegation was heard at length regarding damages done to their property by soldiers while drilling in the building. While the council could not fully compensate them for all losses, an adjustment was made satisfactory to both parties.

BIG DONATIONS TO WAINWRIGHT'S PATRIOTIC FUND

At a recent meeting of the Local Improvement District No 422 a resolution was passed giving the sum of one thousand dollars to the Patriotic Fund of the Wainwright Constituency.

Generous donations of ten dollars each were also given from following individuals:—Fred Pekin, Geo Otterholm, Harry Moss, W. M. Fox, W. M. McNein, F. H. Bailey, D. W. Hansen.

BAND CONCERT

Don't forget that the concert by the Town band is to be given in the Elite Theatre Friday Dec 15th. It is to be hoped there will be a full house, to encourage the boys and the young ladies who are doing their best to give the town a good band and make the musical concert a success.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with pleasure that I wish to thank all those ratepayers who so willingly elected me to the office of councillor of the Town of Wainwright. I will do all I can in the next two years to serve the Town to the best advantage.

Bud Simmerman.

Mrs. (Dr.) J. A. Little is a visitor in Edmonton this week.

MRS. MCDOUGALL DIES AT RIPE OLD AGE OF 81

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth McDougall took place last Monday evening at her son Donald's residence in the Greenfield district. Mrs. McDougall lived to the ripe old age of over eighty-one, and passed away without regret, pain or suffering of any kind. For the last twenty six hours of her life on earth, she slept peacefully and without waking, passed away from her earthly home to the home beyond. At a good old age a faithful life came to an end. Besides relatives and sons in other parts of the country, she leaves to mourn her loss in this district four sons, Donald, Tom, Wallace and Will. For the last few years of her life Mrs. McDougall lived with her son Donald. The funeral service will be held at his residence at one o'clock on Friday. The remains will be laid to rest in Wainwright Cemetery.

IRMA SOCIETY ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEW YEAR

The members of the Irma Agricultural Society held their annual meeting on Wednesday 6th Dec in the municipal office Irma.

The meeting was well attended a fair number being present. The Secretary Treasurer's report showed the society to be in a flourishing condition and that 1916 to be the most successful year since the inauguration. The Seed Fair and Poultry Exhibition and the standing Crop Competition were well supported. The alteration of the date of the Annual Fair proved to be a popular one both by the increased entries and attendance, and the Secretary was instructed to arrange for the same date for the 1917 fair. In conjunction with the Farmers Co-operative Store and the W.F.A., a most enjoyable picnic was held, this with two institute meetings filled the year.

The following officers were elected for 1917:

President W. H. King, 1st Vice Pres. J. H. Elliott, 2nd Vice Pres. W. H. Love, 3rd V.P. Sec. Treas. F. W. Watkinson, Board of directors J. G. Clark, A. W. Toll, A. A. Fischer, W. T. Barker, T. Knowles J. Fenton, C. T. Hill, C. L. Castin, T. Yarr, H. Kaston, J. W. Matthews, J. A. Thompson, O. Steffinson and B. A. Clelland.

SCHOOLS CONCERT TO BE HELD ON DECEMBER 21ST

Read this about the program of the Schools concert to be given on December 21st.

The little tots start the program with their "Bell Drill" Through its mazes this march in perfect rhythm, singing the little songs so dear to the child's heart. Then Mother Goose and Father Christmas take the stage, and introduce to us, Little Boy Blue, Old King Cole with his famous musicians, and a dozen others of our almost forgotten nursery worthies.

The crash of military music takes us at a bound from childhood fancies to the stern realities of war time. Contingents of the allied forces march into position and sing their national anthems with a vim.

Last, but not least, the jolly folk from the south take us, by their sweet melodies and merry jokes, away from the hard matter of fact of our work-a-day world.

Come along and help us ring the Bells of Christmas for the little ones, whose fathers are far overseas on the business of their King and Empire.

S. D. Mills wishes to thank all those who supported him at the recent municipal election.

On account of the extra heavy rush work in the jobbing and advertising department of the "Star" the paper is a day late. Although we have been able to secure the services of an extra printer, A. A. Thorsen of Viking Doug Ferguson has been on the sick list and this fact also explains the delay.

Mrs. O. M. Lewis has opened a dressmaking parlor on 5th Ave near Quebec St.

R. Kenay is building a residence here. Although Mr. Kenay's homestead is only ten miles from Vermilion, he prefers Wainwright as the town in which to make his home.

At a concert held by St. Andrews Church, A. E. Mills purchased the large tier cake which was up for auction at the next sum of $10.25. And the question of the moment is "What will he do with it?"

R. A. Snyder, spent Monday on the other side of Battle River where the Pioneer is at present laying steel.

The sound of the hammer is heard on all sides, shows that Wainwright grows in spite of the winter weather.

V. E. J. A. M., accompanied by his wife and daughter, left yesterday for Clarence, Miss. where they will spend the holidays.

Work on the addition to the Wainwright Hotel has been delayed on account of the absence of brick and windows otherwise it would have been completed this week.

Marconi Has New Findings in Wireless

More Practical and Useful Method of Communication

Marconi, in an address before a gathering at Rome, which included the Duke of Genoa and the elite of science, literature and aristocratic circles, roused the enthusiasm of his hearers when he said that wireless telegraphy had rendered magnificent service to Italy and her allies in the war.

He regretted that it was impossible, for obvious reasons, to explain as fully as he would have liked to do, the progress made during the last two years in radio telegraphy, but he described problems that are still unsolved—such as the origin, nature and means of dominating those natural disturbing waves known as "intruders"—which he has been studying and experimenting with.

He expressed the conviction that he would soon be able to announce means of communication more practical and economically useful to mankind.

Quality of Wheat

Why Hard Wheat is Always Preferred by Millers

Millers prefer wheat that is hard and flinty to a wheat that is made up of kernels that are white and starchy in cross-section. Kernels of the latter type are softer and more easily crushed and are apt to be "soft wheat." A considerable reduction in price is often made when this "soft" wheat is offered for sale.

Dr. W. R. Headland, of the Colorado Agricultural Experiment Station, has succeeded in determining the cause of this trouble and also the remedy, which every farmer can supply.

In brief, the cause of "yellow-berry" is a high percentage of potash in the soil in proportion to the available nitrogen. The remedy is to keep the nitrogen contents of the soil as high as possible without increasing the potash. This may be done by the addition of nitrate, the rotation of crops in which alfalfa or some other legume is used, and by proper tillage.

Two Kinds of Peace

Peace Talk in Germany and in Great Britain

During the past month or two there has been a great deal of talk about peace in high quarters in England as well as in Germany. But between the things that have been said in England and the things that have been said in Germany there is a sharp contrast in two essential respects. In the first place, what the German statesmen's thoughts are centred upon is the possibility of bringing the war to an end by coming to terms with their enemies in one way or another without fighting the war out to the bitter end, whereas the men at the head of affairs in England—Asquith, Lloyd George, Grey—are absolutely unbending in their resolution to entertain no proposals of peace except such as would be predicated on the decisive defeat of Germany. And secondly, the German preoccupation is wholly with the question of the ending of this war, and has no concern with the prevention of future wars except in so far as this may be implied in the demanding terms of peace which shall leave Germany's mighty state fully capable of defending itself against aggression, whereas in utterance after utterance of the leading English statesmen the idea is put forward of establishing a new regime, under which, through some form of international co-operation, a repetition of the stupendous calamity that has befallen the world will be made impossible. Varieties of Alfalfa

A bulletin entitled "Alfalfa Growing in Quebec," by Prof. James Murray, of Macdonald College, gives among other things, the results of some interesting tests regarding varieties of this desirable fodder plant which may be grown in that province. During the last five years tests have been made of over one hundred varieties from America, Europe and Asia. Of this number less than half a dozen have proven suitable for Quebec, the remainder being winter killed from frost or being too tender among other things, the results of some interesting tests regarding varieties of this desirable fodder plant which may be grown in that province.

"I've got a great deal of pleasure from anticipating the trip."

"More, possibly, than you'll get from the trip itself."

"That's what I think. So I've decided to stay at home and save the money."

It Bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia or the excruciating pain of the cramps is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Well rubbed in, it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. There is nothing like it as a remedy for the curative properties are great. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

Fill Up the Ranks

Let it be granted that Quebec has not done as well in proportion to its population as the other provinces. The same is true of the maritime provinces when compared with Ontario and the west. We can never get anywhere by recrimination and abuse. There are local battles to be fought. Whatever there may be calling for criticism in this or that direction is nothing compared with the urgent need of filling the gaps in the ranks. The chief business in Canada today is war, and the war must be fought to a finish if it takes every man of military age.—St. John Times and Star.

Climate Less Severe

What Study of Larger Glaciers in B. C. Has Revealed

Dr. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, and Mrs. Walcott have just returned to Washington after several months' field work in Canada. Accompanied by only a packer and a cook, they spent most of the summer and early fall on the continental divide, which forms the boundary line between Alberta and British Columbia, south of the Canadian Pacific Railway, studying the Cambrian rocks, containing the fossil remains of the earliest animal life.

During the heavy snowfall of the previous winter, and the fact that most of the geological formations which they wished to examine were in the deep snow about the higher line, little progress was made in July. In August, however, sections were examined and measured in the Mount Asinibolite region, and from there northward to the celebrated Kicking Horse pass where the Canadian Pacific Railway has bored a double tunnel through the mountain in order to obtain a feasible grade on the western side of the pass.

Some years ago Dr. Walcott found a remarkable fossil fauna in boulders which had been carried into Kicking Horse canyon by glaciers that have since disappeared. This season he located the source of these boulders, high up in the mountain cirque, where a portion of what must have been a great hanging glacier is still active.

Mrs. Walcott, formerly Miss Mary Vaux of Philadelphia, who has studied glaciers for several years, and is well known as a naturalist, has been in the field for two years. During the past two years, steel plates were placed on the ice on the mountain in order to measure the winter's snow, but since their position, and their locations then will be known, and the ice during the summer, and their locations then will be known, and the ice during the summer, and their locations then will be known.

The Need of the Hour

The great cry now is the lack of leadership in our churches. The war has created thousands of fine young men who had been devoting much of their life to the church and Sunday school work. In Time of War Prepare for Peace

Sir George Foster Urges Canadians to Prepare for Future Work

That Canada and the whole Empire should prepare for peace conditions in the same manner that they prepared for war was the argument prepared by Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, before the Canadian Club of Montreal.

Sir George gave an address full of ideas and ideals, his concluding advice being that the whole people should unite in work for peace conditions, to meet the entirely new phases of the evolution of the world as they had united to produce men and materials for war. His main idea was that the whole country should organize, then to produce, and produce for useful ends, just as it had organized now for destructive ends, and to this end he appealed to the business men of the country to unite patriotically for the general good. He argued that with the changed conditions after the war only increased production could meet the situation—mere "swapping" in trade would not do it, nor would the making of money in brokers' offices, or the criminal hoarding of real estate. It was only the real production of real values from the invaluable resources of the country that could save the situation.

Sir George pointed out that when peace came there would be hundreds of thousands of Canadians returning—men who had been taken from productive to destructive work, and very many of these would be untrained for future work.

With between thirty and forty millions of soldiers engaged in destroying the accumulations of the world's wealth, the terrible work of keeping them up the broken-up conditions caused by such work, Sir George argued that every condition of life would be changed when the knell of war sounded, and peace once more reigned, and it was time people prepared to give just as usefully in the work of peace.

Believes She Was Saved From Stroke of Paralysis

All One Side Was Cold and Powerless When She Began Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

A dead nerve cell can never be replaced. In this it is different to other cells of the human body. But, feeble, wasted nerve cells can be restored, had to do this, I could find my left arm, became powerless and cold, and this continued to get worse until my whole side was affected, head and all. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and the help I received was so much that I used several, and believe that this treatment saved me from having a paralytic stroke. It has built me up wonderfully, and I can recommend it most heartily, believing that if more Nerve Food were used there would be much less sickness."

German Espionage

German Spies Are Betrayed By a Woman

A powerful sensation has been produced in Holland by the unearthing of German espionage system in that country. For many months past it has been a matter of perplexity that the movements of neutral ships leaving Rotterdam were speedily made known to German patrols, and that so many in consequence have either been torpedoed or captured.

The plotting of the system has now been located. A German named Dirkzwager, who was formerly British Consul at Assatish, has been trapped handing out information to another man, also a German, called Hansen. The Hansen was able to convey the word of many ships to the enemy of the Allies.

The success that attended their destructive work was multiplied, and they were compelled to add to their contraband, among whom was a woman, who was trying to obtain information one day at Rotterdam of the passenger list of a steamer, the Batavia, which was suspected. She was shadowed immediately, and the first of her letters were eventually discovered.

The result has been that the railway station system has been traced, and show that from one end of the country to the other Dirkzwager and his spies have been in constant communication with the Germans night and day for many months.

DO IT NOW

HAVE YOU BEEN OUT on the sidewalk with shovel and broom since the latest fall of snow? Do you know that a broom is just as useful and as effectively operated on the steps leading to your home as on the curling ice? No never mind sweeping in front of your neighbors home or place of business. Just attend to your own and he, in all probability will follow your good example. The snow is easier cleared away now than after it gets caked and frozen. So begin today. If this is neglected by all citizens then behold the spectacle this winter of single file procession along our sidewalks—"duck track" and "cow path" fashion. You know!

BY VOLUNTARY SUBSCRIPTIONS NOT BY TAXATION

A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN has been started in the Wainwright Constituency for the Patriotic Fund. So far the local committee has met with a great deal more success this year than last. If every person did his or her share, there should be no difficulty whatsoever in raising the amount required. But still there are many who hang back and object to this plan of raising the funds. They say the money ought to be raised by taxation in the hands of the government. Then, they say, every person would equally bear the burden. Very good indeed, we also believe in equality of opportunity.

Now there are a great many considerations to be taken into account in connection with these objections.

Consider first of all the length of time it would take to enact legislation for the raising of funds by taxation. The province of Alberta would have a perfect right to impose a property and poll tax for patriotic purposes but no legislation has been enacted or could now be enacted and made effective in time to provide the funds needed this year to care for soldiers' dependants.

It is also pointed out that even if such a system of taxation were in force, the tax would have to be collected by provincial government or by municipalities and this process is so slow that soldiers' dependants would die of starvation in the meantime. Besides the cost of collecting such taxes would be about ten times more than the cost of collecting by the voluntary system.

Let us point out also that the Canadian system of recruiting is voluntary and it would seem in keeping with that principle that those who either from choice or inability are not in uniform should show their good spirit and contribute voluntarily. Surely those who cannot fight want to contribute something to the general cause.

Those who are laboring on this problem of taxation versus voluntary system have given the matter careful consideration and have come to the conclusion that the latter is the only solution in the present situation. It has been found by the majority to be the best system, so far, for raising the funds for the support of those who are fighting our battles. So Mr. Knecker, until you find a better system, we suggest, to use the words of common phrase, that you throw away your hammer and buy a horn.

ABOUT OUR PROVINCE

FACTS TALK. They talk in favor of our Province of Alberta. We speak of Sunny Alberta, and truly from a commercial view point it is one of the bright spots in the Dominion at the present time. This is shown from the following statistics that have recently come to light.

Elsewhere in Canada and in the United States there has been but half a crop but Alberta as a whole has harvested more than a normal crop. According to figures received by the Minister of Agriculture the average yield was 28 bushels for wheat, 45 bushels for oats and 30 bushels for barley. That is the first fact brought to light.

With the high prices of grain and live stock, Alberta this year will eclipse last year's total agricultural production from the financial point of view and the individual farmer will not a greater return than his brother in any other province. That is the second fact revealed by statistics.

The homesteader on Alberta farms has been raised to a position of wealth and influence with a rapidity unequalled in the history of industrial success in which Canada may well boast. That is the third truth about our province.

This year some incredible yields have been reported by reliable authorities, wheat exceeding 70 bushels and oats 145 bushels per acre. That is the fourth fact.

Alberta has produced the world's wheat king. He is Charles S. Noble of Nobleford, Alberta, who this year secured from a thousand acres, 54.23 bushels to the acre. It was all No. 1 wheat, thus he broke the world's record. That is a fifth fact about Alberta.

There are still free homesteads in Alberta—(thousands of them). Many of them are accessible to railways. Alberta has been one of the few bright spots on the crop map this past year and with these wide acres still open for occupation it will become a still brighter spot in the agricultural world.

ROYAL NAVY CANADIAN MEN AS VOLUNTEERS

The British Admiralty is asking for five thousand Canadian volunteers for naval service, to be maintained at Canada's expense. Of this number, two thousand are needed by the first of the year. The allotted number for Alberta to raise is only one hundred and twenty. Surely there are that many who would make excellent seamen? This is the first time the Royal Navy has made an appeal for men outside England. Both New Zealand and Australia men, their own navies and the latter has also sent eight hundred recruits to the Royal Navy. Shall not Canada do her share?

It is in the very nature of things that Canadians should be found in the navy as well as in the army during the present great struggle. The navy needs men not only for the prosecution of the war in home waters but for the continued protection of Canadian troops and Canadian products on the open sea.

The work of the navy is neither as arduous nor as hazardous as that of the army, and the knowledge of life and fighting routine on a battleship can be acquired by the intelligent keen recruit in less time than a landsman would deem possible. The life of a sailor on a dreadnought, destroyer or cruiser is not a hard one and Canadians should be willing to avail themselves of this opportunity to serve the empire.

Candidates for this "Overseas Division of the Royal Naval Canadian Volunteer Reserve," must be of good character and good physique, natural born British subjects, at least 5 ft. 3 in. in height, 33 in. chest measurements and between the ages of 18 and 38. The pay and conditions of service are the same in all respects as for the army. For further particulars apply at the STAR OFFICE, which is the local recruiting office.

FARMER'S ADVOCATE REMAINS AT $1.50

The Farmer's Advocate and Home Journal is to hand again this week, full of solid, reliable, up-to-date reading for the farm home. Established over fifty years this Journal still easily keeps in the lead amongst farm papers, its familiar yellow cover being a welcome as well as a frequent sight in the modern farmer's mail. The Farmer's Advocate seems to honestly strive to be what its name indicates, the advocate of the farmer's interests, bound to no special clique and serving all farmers in all phases of their work. Articles by practical farmers form a considerable section of the paper, some being on topics set weekly for discussion, with prizes awarded for the best. The live stock, machinery, grain, poultry and other departments are live and up-to-date; veterinary and legal questions answered free by experts, are a popular feature, as are the ever interesting "Questions and Answers" in their column. Although issued weekly, in high-class, flat magazine form, with cover, the Farmer's Advocate remains at the subscription price, $1.50 per year, and is big value for the money in these days of increased paper prices and high costs of printing.

Good for the whole family

A good cough remedy is one that can be depended upon to cure coughs. Not one that cures some particular cough, but coughs in general. While the causes of all coughs are primarily the same, yet the condition of the patient is what makes the difference in the nature of the cough. Coughs of healthy persons are easier to cure than the coughs of invalids. The more powerful convulsive cough of a big man is harder to cure than the cough of a baby. If you get a remedy that will cure a big man's cough and yet not be too powerful for the baby, you have a good cough remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is just this kind of remedy. It is good for any member of the family. It relieves coughs of all kinds. It is composed of things which cure easily and soothingly without harming the delicate tissues of the throat, and is the ideal remedy for coughs, colds, croup, influenza and whooping cough.

PROBLEM OF DISABLED SOLDIER IS RECEIVING MUCH ATTENTION

BRITAIN ADVISED TO FOLLOW CANADA'S EXAMPLE

The Aim of the Military Hospitals Commission Is To Do Its Best For the Physical and Economic Well-Being of the Disabled Soldiers, Helping Them in the Most Practical Way

The London Daily Chronicle, the Reading Liberal journal of the importance of the subject was published in its place in its issue of Oct. 4, at the following spontaneous and remarkable expression of public opinion:

"We are glad to see that the Government is restoring disabled soldiers to active and self-supporting citizenship. It is a noble policy, and it is one which Mr. J. Saxon Mills, goes so far as to suggest that the Mother Country is now doing better than she did in the olden days. We hope the Dominion, however, will follow the example of the Dominion, His Majesty's Government."

The most difficult question facing England has to face at present is how to deal with the broken men who are returning from the front. The adequate answer to this question has not yet been found.

The principles which should be observed in solving the problem are yet fully worked out. But we can say that the first principle of thinking that our responsibility for the wounded soldier is fulfilled by his being sent back to the military service, and when he is pensioned off and discharged from the army, is a mistake. The best way to benefit of the special treatment pro-were placed at the disposal of the prisoners. This idea was soon dispelled when it was found that treatment of the disabled soldiers was not a simple matter. Months or even weeks spent in the atmosphere of such a home would destroy the physical and moral fibre. Let it be said that the Commission, as a member of the Commission, has said on this subject in its introduction to the Commission's preliminary report:

"In many cases were luxurious, the relaxation of discipline, the treatiment of the prisoners was not different from that of the interval between illnesses and the resumption of ordinary occupation. The Commission is of the opinion that the experience was to be counted as a failure, and that the Commission is fundamental to the best interests of the men when extended over the period of the war. The Commission found unavoidable. The first conception of the homes was that they were to be a place where the men of one which experience has taught we are changing as rapidly as man, but our country is not. The men who are placed where, in the interests of the men, their time will be fully occupied their physical restoration is not complete from the beginning, the bad effect of idleness followed by employment.

These are old words which those who are responsible for our wounded veterans will do well to remember.

It would be interesting to follow the history of a few typical cases of Canadian soldiers wounded in the battle lines. Of course, the injuries are not the same, but the general trend is the same. The man is wounded in the front; but his case may be hopeless so far as military fitness is concerned, and he may have to be sent back to his home. The man who is taken in hand at the port of arrival by the Military Hospitals Commission is, if he is unfit for overseas service, but able to take up his former occupation, he receives 15 days' pay after a temporary absence. If he is unable to work with free leave on a permanent basis, he belongs to Class II or III, that is, if he has to receive further treatment as a convalescent, or has a permanent disability of any kind, he is passed on to Class II or III. If he is an ordinary convalescent he will be sent to the hospital nearest his home; but if he requires special such as orthopaedic treatment, he will go there that is supplied.

What is especially emphasized is that at all these hospital schools are held where training of a elementary and non-vocational character is given in English, French mechanical drawing, arithmetic, and the like. If they are not open to all inmates, whether they are able to return to their former occupations or not. But, from their hospitalization, they are not to be sent on, after they have been pensioned and discharged, to the various agricultural colleges, schools of forestry, etc., where they can be taught new occupations which their disabilities do not prevent them from following. And that is not all, for employment is practically assured to them by the Federal Government (under the Federal Military Hospital Act) and the Veterans Affairs Commission) which have charged themselves with the duty of assigning them wages for the return to the civilian life.

I should add that the men in the homes and hospitals are fully maintained and that they are not a burden on the State. The whole system, which is quite established in the barest outline, is quite admirable, and fully realizes the aims of the law.

The V.C. has now been awarded to two hundred and three heroes during the war, and thus the number awarded during the Indian Mutiny has been exceeded by twenty-one. Since the most highly-prized decoration in the world was instituted by Queen Victoria sixty years ago the following have been awarded: Indian, Mutiny: 182; Battle and Crimea, 111; South Africa, 78. The remainder were given to minor wars in which this country has been engaged.

"It will," replied the other. "You see, the Germans are taking thousands and thousands of Russian prisoners, and the Russians are taking thousands and thousands of German prisoners. On all fronts the Russians will be in Germany and the Germans in Russia. And then they will get back their 'oneal'—Youth's Companion."

A Massacre

I saw it happening down a flight of steps, slashed and torn to shreds. Barely enough was left to hold the fragments together. The pitiful sight of my curiosity was aroused.

"What are you?" I asked, "and how came you in such a horrible condition?"

"I am a reputation," the wreck replied, "and I have just been released from a female bridge whilst party."

DO HEROIC WORK

A stirring story has just become public property, of a rescue of the crew of a barge under conditions of danger, by the captain and crew of the Grand Trunk Pacific Coast Steamer "Prince John." A recommendation has been forwarded to Ottawa for official recognition of the bravery and resourcefulness of those participating in the rescue.

What happened was that the barge "Donald D." in tow of a tug broke away from the tug through a parted hawser during some heavy weather on the night of November 2nd. All night long the barge without engine or sail power wallowed helplessly in the trough of a heavy sea, and matters were decidedly uncomfortable for the captain, the captain's wife and the crew of four men on board.

The next morning the barge was picked up by the Steamship "Prince John" which had received wireless advice of its plight; but in spite of the night's experience, the Captain did not wish to abandon the barge, but requested a tow to safety. Weather conditions made it very difficult to get a line aboard, but the feat was accomplished, and with the load of the barge the "Prince John" forged ahead into the heavy weather. Again the load proved too much for the hawser which snapped in a few minutes, and it was evident the barge would have to be abandoned. The problem was then to send off a boat which should rescue the crew and this was safely accomplished. The barge was subsequently wrecked.

Recommendation to Ottawa resulted in the Captain's report coming to light, and like the narratives of all seamen who accomplish things, it has a savor of strength and simplicity. A part of the report of Captain Davies which follows is worth repeating:

"About 7 a. m. November 3rd was stopped by Tug Dola in Christie Pass requesting us to report to Wireless Station that at 11 p. m. previous night the tow line parting he lost his tow the barge Donald D., eight miles west of Pine Island in Queen Charlotte Sound."

"I stood out about 10 miles W. N. W. off Pine Island, but weather continuing dirty and thick and was unable to see anything, proceeded on our course. At 11 a. m. the weather cleared, and again stood to the westward from Calvert Point with the intention of going to Milbank Sound by outside track on the possible chance of barge being in that direction."

"Upon sighting the barge to N. W. and proceeded towards her. The Captain wished me to take her in tow as he did not care to abandon her, so after several attempts I succeeded in getting the hawser aboard and proceeding slowly with the intention of towing her to Safety Cove, twenty miles distant, a very heavy sea running and the wind strongly southerly."

"After towing slowly about 15 minutes the hawser parted, then after considerable difficulty got our boat away to take off the crew, which consisted of 5 men also Captain's wife, which we took to Prince Rupert."

"Fortunately we had a good boat crew and succeeded in getting out and rescuing the people off the barge after having getting the boat safely aboard again."

"In passing along the bulk, his anchor caught our cargo fall parting same and slightly damaging the iron rail on boat deck."

"About 4 p. m. darkness setting in, we left the barge about 5 miles W. of Fitzroy Reef driving towards the shore, very high westerly sea running and a strong southerly wind. On leaving the bulk we advised the

OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER ON WINTERING HORSES

The experimental Station of Cap Rouge, Que., sends out valuable information regarding the wintering of idle horses. The plan found successful there is of such a nature as to be practicable in almost any part of the Dominion.

Often it is difficult to get good horses in spring at a reasonable price and hard to get a good one for them in the fall. It is wisdom, therefore, for the farmer to keep on hand during the winter as many as he can afford to feed. How to keep them as cheaply as possible is the question with every farmer? The Cap Rouge Station has found that idle horses thrive and gain weight on a daily ration of one pound mixed hay, one pound oat straw, one pound carrots or swedes for each one hundred pounds of their weight.

On this ration, of course, the horses must be left practically idle and when they begin to work both the ration and the work must increase gradually. If horses have had a hard seasons work they should be fed up to normal before being put on this ration and should get sufficient exercise to keep them from stocking.

How and when to feed according to the Cap Rouge Station is given as follows:

It would probably be well to chaff at least half the hay and straw, but as the idea is to lower expenses, there seems no doubt that the cost of cutting these roughages would be greater than that of the extra feed necessary to supply the energy used in masticating them. The roots were sliced, most of the time, for the experiments, and it seems better to give them thus, though it is not absolutely necessary, as long as they are not of such sizes as to be swallowed whole, when there may be danger of choking."

When to feed.—It was noticed at Cap Rouge that the legs of horses kept in box stalls, and fed as previously described, did not stock up. If there is no box stall, it is advisable to turn the animals out every day, when the weather permits, so that they may take some exercise. In this case, it is probable that somewhat more feed will be needed, to make up for the lost energy and heat. As to the number of times to feed, it seems that twice a day is sufficient, and that about the same quantity can be given both morning and evening.

Wireless Station its position.

"That the boat was put out and taken in again without damage was due to the careful supervision of Mr. P. Scott, lat Officer, and the boats crew were Mr. J. Baillies, 2nd Officer in charge, other members being H. DuRoi, 3rd Officer, J. Dybing, T. Olson, Jacob Green."

SPECIAL DELIVERY OF BAGGAGE CAN NOW BE ARRANGED

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has just completed an extension of its arrangement whereby baggage can be checked through direct to residences or hotels in certain cities.

In Western Canada, the arrangement now applies to baggage destined to Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria. In Eastern Canada the arrangement applies to Hamilton, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. In addition to the Canadian cities shown, there are a large number of cities in the United States in which the arrangement is in effect.

Ocean steamship passengers travelling through New York find the arrangement very convenient for they have a special delivery check attached to their baggage, which takes it through to the Steamship Wharf and they attend to it there instead of having to claim it at the railway station.

In all Canadian cities the charge for special delivery of one trunk is 25 cents, except Vancouver and Victoria where it is 40 cents. These charges, of course, only apply to the portions of the cities where usual minimum transfer rates are in effect. When baggage is checked out to outlying districts of the City, it may be subject to additional charges on arrival.

Standard rate, however, covers a large portion of every city named.

CONSCRIPTION ONLY METHOD IN CANADA. SAYS IRMA SOLDIER

The way in which the man at the front views the recruiting situation in Canada is forcibly expressed in a letter recently received by relatives from Sergt. John D. Elliott of the 4th Battalion, son of Mr and Mrs John E. Elliott, Lilac Dale, Westminster. Sergt. Elliott, a young business man in Irma, Alta enlisted promptly in the ranks when the first call came for volunteers at the outbreak of war. He was through the trying winter at Salisbury, and has been three times wounded; the first time severely at Ypres, the second time slightly during the past summer. He is in an English hospital at the present time, suffering from a wound in the leg, which will prevent his return to action for some months, at least. He says we hear recruiting is not brisk in Canada these months. I am sorry in one way and not in another. If nobody enlisted, then some form of compulsion would have to be used, and I have got to be a conscriptionist entirely. I may see things different after I get back to a peaceful life but it looks like a necessary evil in war or peace. Then the men who should come would be here and we shouldn't see men with families to support killed off. It means added expense in pensions as well. "The other day a man was showing me a snapshot of his three or four little kiddies, and his house he soon would have paid for if he could only get back to work again. In a few minutes he was dead. I wonder if one of the young Canadian slackers would think he was unfairly treated if he had to pay off the balance due on that man's home.

"How will the poor widow do it? There are enough single men between 20 and 40 years of age to bring Canada's army up to strength. It is a mistake to send men not included in these ages, although there are a few exceptions where they can hold up their end of the work."

"We expect all of us whether here or in Canada, are now getting war weary. Although a remature peace would be unthinkable. The war seems to be reaching a stage that a few months ago looked to me impossible, and the first "driving" must have been a tremendous task.

"I expect Fritz has a good punch left in him yet, but we all feel that we have the supremacy in all branches, and although I wouldn't attempt to prophesy as to when the war will finish, Fritz is getting such a shaking up every day that it must make him think. I would dread going under such artillery fire as the Allies are turning on him now. A big drive would mean transportation problems that I can hardly believe could be solved, but so much that looked impossible a short while ago has been accomplished that I won't be surprised at anything."

ANGLO-SAXONS FIGHTING TO-DAY FOR FREEDOM AS IN THE PAST

Issue of the World War Is Outlined by Dr. Macdonald, of Toronto
Who Addressed the Illinois Society of the Sons of American Revolution at Anniversary Meeting Held in Chicago

Dr. I. A. Macdonald, of Toronto, was the chief speaker at a banquet in Chicago, held under the auspices of the Illinois Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, in commemoration of the 135th anniversary of the battle of Yorktown. In the course of his address, he said:

This occasion is significant at least in this: for the first time in your history you have chosen as your countryman to represent your country at this event. It would seem as though the 18th century, does not in this 20th century. The English-speaking peoples of the world are not the same as the English-speaking peoples of the 18th century. And it seems to me that the estrangement of the American colonies from what history must forever call their Mother Country was not an accident. It was the result of a breakdown to the roots of the things that made the American people different from the people on either side. The flags were divided, but both remained, and the people remained. The forms of government were

When the Royal Highland Regiments, three thousand strong, landed at Falmouth, Cornwall, on February 18, 1776, their tartan colors flying, their bagpipes blaring, and their drums beating, filled with the battle-cries of their clans, among the hundreds of Massachusetts soldiers, was a young Seawall Oig, who on that day, carried for George III, and the House of Commons, the first of the letters which his Majesty's ministers had carried thirty years before, on the fateful field of Culloden Moor, for Prince Charles Edward and the House of Stuart. That man was my great-great-grandfather; and with him marched and fought three of his sons, one of them a young Corporal whose name I bear. And his fourth

To Insure War Workers At End of War

Great Britain Will Safeguard 500,000
From Unemployment When
The Struggle Ends

Under the caption, "Safeguarding 1,500,000 Workers," the Official Press Bureau in London has issued an article in which it states that in anticipation of a wave of unemployment which may follow the war, the government is going to extend the operations of the state unemployment insurance act. The statement reads in part: "The following is the official statement issued by the War Office on the subject of the state unemployment insurance act."

The real issue at stake in the revolutionary war was larger than the fortunes of any party, far larger than the fate of any nation. It was dreamed on either side. The real issue was the idea of human freedom, the idea that a free people have the right to govern themselves.

It was the issue of the future with the name Anglo-Saxon. I sometimes call it the North American idea. Not that

It was first conceived in America, and it was its origin and early years in Anglo-Saxon lands. The idea of government of the people by the people and for the people, in its most primitive form, was with the Anglo-Saxons. Institutions, does indeed run far back through the centuries and into the mists of antiquity. But the Anglo-Saxons in the dark forests of northern Germany and around the mouth of the Rhine, were the first to give to the world those seafaring sires of the first English monarchs, who were the first to pilot their ways over the oceans of the world. They were the first to give to the world the first bricks, rubber and goods made there. They were the first to give to the world, cement and artificial stone and other artificial building materials. They were the first to give to the world, work, and the manufacture of wooden cases.

As part from orpikope in their selected trades the act instructed munition workers as such. Briefly this means that all workpeople of the kind of articles for naval or military use for the Allies will be insurable.

That Anglo-Saxon spark was the idealistic idea of a better life for the people of the world. It was the belief that the Anglo-Saxons, who, following the retreating Romans, founded their colonies in ancient Britain, called the country England, and set free their Anglo-Saxon idea.
